Day 2 - Saturday: Kolocep kayaking and sailing to Sipan Island

From Dubrovnik's River Ombla we will sail away westbound to Kolocep Island, relaxed on a modern 44' (13,5 m) sailing catamaran yacht with a plenty of deck space, comfort and very good sailing performance. Kolocep is ideal for sea kayaking, but hiking and stand up paddling are just as good and offer the opportunity to get close to the island's coves, caves and authentic island villages. After lunch in Vljaki family small beach restaurant we keep sailing until Lopud Island where we stop for a short sightseeing walk and drink. More sailing, with a glass of wine in hand, towards sunset and Sipan Island. For the night we will be moored in one of the most beautiful bays and small towns in the area – Luka Sipanska – and enjoy fresh seafood dinner, right by the sea, in one of the best restaurants in the country.

Accommodation: catamaran; Meals: breakfast, lunch, dinner

Exploring cliffs, caves and villages of Kolocep Island in kayaks

Day 3 - Sunday: Sipan Island cycling and hiking, Ston sightseeing

Luka Sipanska is a charming and romantic fishing village in a bay surrounded with palm trees. Sundays in Luka begin with a coffee in Bozo's "Luka" café before going to Sunday church service. Sipan is the largest of the the Elaphiti Islands. We will explore its landscape, castles, chapels and monasteries by bikes and on foot to reach Mare and Hajro's farm and olive grove to smple their grappa, prosciutto, olive oul and goat cheese. In the afternoon we continue sailing and swimming between the uninhabited Elaphiti Islands until we reach Ston on the Peljesac Peninsula - a lovely old town unspoiled by tourism, with pleasant cafes and restaurants. Take the time to explore the Ston city wall and fortresses (built centuries ago to defend from Otoman empire expansion), salt farms, or taste its famous oysters or mussels.

Accommodation: catamaran; Meals: breakfast, lunch, dinner

Exploring Sipan Island monastery on bicycles - one of 65 „zero“ category cultural monuments on the island – not counting authentic gourmet food, wines and music.

Day 4 - Monday: Mljet Island National Park sailing, SUP, cycling and swimming

The third day of your holiday is reserved for Mljet Island National Park. Three salt water lakes surrounded by a lush, green forest, the larger one with a small island in the middle guarding 800-years-old monastery, make Mljet a spectacular location for stand up paddling, hiking, cycling and swimming. We will cycle from the catamaran to the lakes, where you can take a boat to explore the 12th century Benedictine monastery. In the late afternoon we will sail towards the Peljesac Peninsula and anchor in a quiet bay near Zuljana Village in the area of best wines and most beautiful beaches.

Accommodation: catamaran; Meals: breakfast, lunch, dinner

A hike on St.Mary's Island to the monastery, Mljet Island National Park

Day 5 Tuesday: - Elaphiti Islands sailing

Enjoy the last day of sailing as we slowly make our way back to Sipan, quietly cruising between the Elaphiti Islands until we reach Luka Sipanska. This is the last day of activities: in the early afternoon Huck Finn will transfer you to the mainland for homebound flight or one more night in Dubrovnik.

Accommodation: catamaran; Meals: breakfast, lunch, dinner

A kayaking, snorkeling and swimming break on Zuljana Bay beach

Day 6 - Wednesday: Departure
